Simple Present Tense exercises worksheets PDF? Present simple reading comprehension for adults? simple present mixed exercises pdf? The Simple Present Tense: Affirmative Form In general, we use the simple present tense when we want to express a habit, and when we need to state true statements or general facts. For example: I eat breakfast every morning. She makes breakfast every day. We sleep every night. They go to the beach every weekend Singular Plural 1st person I eat fish we eat fish 2nd person you eat fish you eat fish 3rd person he, she, it eats fish they eat fish Remember: that the verb after she, he, it (3rd person singular) has a final s eats. Also, remember to add -es to verbs when using he, she, and it if the verb: ends with z, s, x, ss, ch, or sh; for example: she washes her car ends with o; for example: Jessy goes to school ends with y preceded by a consonant; we change the y to i before adding -es; for example: Brian tries very hard. The Simple Present Tense: Negative Form Singular Plural 1st person I do not drink tea we do not drink tea 2nd person you do not drink tea you do not drink tea 3rd person she, it does not drink tea they do not drink tea Remember: Do and does are called "helping verbs." The contractions of do not and does not are don't and doesn't. For example: I don't drink tea. They don't have a TV. He doesn't drink coffee. Lucy doesn't have a car. The Simple Present Tense: Question Form Singular Plural 1st person Do I like coffee? Do you like coffee? 2nd person Do you like coffee? Do you like coffee? 3rd person Does he, she, it like coffee? Do they like coffee? Remember: The main verb in the question does not have a final "s". The final "s" is part of does. Thus, it is incorrect to say: Does Lucy likes coffee? Also, remember that Do, don't, does, and doesn't are used in the short answers to yes/ no questions in the simple present. To illustrate: Do you like fish? Yes, I do. (I like fish.) No, I don't. (I don't like fish.) Does Brian drink coffee? Yes, he does. (He drinks coffee.) No, he doesn't. (He doesn't drink coffee.)
